Kansas.

The prospect brightens; Thank God! there is still hope for Kansas. Our latest intelligence from Washington which will be found under our Congressional head, is of the most cheering character. There is yet something of the virtue and patriotism of our fathers still left in the halls of Congress, or at least in that portion of it, where we like to find it, in the House of Representatives, the immediate agents of the people. It holds out to us, the gratifying assurance, that the people—the sovereign people—are yet true to themselves, to the principles of their forefathers, to the cause of freedom, of justice, humanity and truth.—The Administration, with that rare specimen of Democracy, James Buchanan, at its head, and a decided majority in both Houses, exerting all the efforts which the influence of their high station and their immense patronage could suggest, or bring to bear on the question, finds itself forced; Goliath of Gath is prostrate and the youthful David, strong in the justice of his cause and the cause of Heaven's truth, stands upon his prostrate carcass, ready to sever his head, and thus establish forever the cause of Justice and righteousness. By the victory attained—the reference of the President's message and the Lecompton Constitution to a select committee—we are assured that Kansas is safe—its cause is taken from the hands of its enemies and placed in the hands of its friends—a select committee of fifteen—who will in due time make a report which will consign the infamous Lecompton Constitution, to its just and merited doom—a Bye word and a reproach in all future time, to all its originators, aiders and abettors.

The Boston Journal, a paper whose general tone and tenor we quite like, has lately had some editorial articles on Paper Currency and the Revolution of 1857, which seems to us rather wordy than luminous or conclusive. The Journal denies that the revolution is to any extent fairly attributable to the Banks or currency-dabblers of the country, but says it was "the simple result of over-production and extravagant consumption."

Precisely how this "simple result" can be proved, the Journal man does not seem to show—or, if he does, we do not seem to get hold of his meaning. He quotes from the Boston Post—a mighty poor authority, by the way, for anything but jokes—to prove that "prices are not in any degree affected by the Bank note circulation—a proposition which the Post says may be 'abundantly demonstrated' in a certain way which it suggests—but which method, to our mind, no more proves the Post's proposition, than it proves that twice two are five, or that a mouse is an elephant. We wish people would "cease to darken counsel," on this Currency and Crisis question, "by words without knowledge."

An Official Trip to Washington.

We learn that not many days since a certain Postmaster whose office is not more than seventy-five miles from New Bedford, visited Washington, and in due time, called upon one of the public functionaries. Having been admitted into the presence of his august friend, the following conversation ensued:

Secretary—Well, what's your special business to-day?

Postmaster—You are aware, I presume, that I am publishing a—

Secretary—I know all about it. What other matters have you to communicate?

Postmaster—(Somewhat embarrassed) about my confirmation—what do you propose to do?

Secretary—(Slightly irritated) I have not the time to discuss that point now—Have you anything more to say?

Postmaster—Well, no, nothing of special importance.

Secretary—(To his door keeper) Show Mr.—, the door.

The interview it will be seen, was a short one, and its sudden and abrupt termination not quite so satisfactory as the unconfirmed anticipated. Let others, similarly situated, take warning from this tragical occurrence. Visits upon officials at Washington are often attended with unpleasant results.

EFFECT OF KEROSINE, OR COAL OIL, ON WHEAT.

In contradiction of a statement recently published that a cargo of wheat from New Orleans was spoiled by the effluvia from Kerosene oil on board the same vessel, the agent of the Kerosene Oil Company says that the oil which caused the damage was Brokenridge oil.—N. Y. Com. Ad.

PRESENTMENT.—It is stated that Lady H. who was residing at Bohon on the Rhine, when the news of his death reached England, has for several weeks past, had a strong presentment that she should hear of his early death.

MARRIED AT SEA.—A marriage took place at sea, on board the steamship Edinburgh, on the 26th Jan. The parties were Mr. James Hastie, of Carnwath, Lanarkshire, to Miss Mary Wacher Hastie, of Whiteburn, Linlithgowshire, Scotland.

Hon. George Bancroft, of New York, has taken open ground against the Lecompton fraud. He is very earnest in his opposition to it.

LOCAL NEWS.

We understand that several arrests were made during the fire Saturday night by his honor the Mayor and his assistants. Part of them for stealing and part for unwillingness to assist at the engines when ordered to do so by the proper authorities. For ourselves we can much more easily excuse a petty theft than the dogged obstinacy often manifested by some on trying occasions like that in refusing to lend a helping hand. Our city officers have acted properly in making these arrests, and have shown their efficiency and promptness in a matter which can but be commended by every friend of good order.

Highly Commendable.

Our worthy Postmaster, James Atkinson Esq. during the fire on Sunday morning, (saying that it might reach the Post Office, actually removed with his own hands, every letter from the boxes and deposited them for safe keeping in his iron safe. In this, as well as in every other respect, Mr. A. has proved himself fully worthy of his important appointment.

Court of Justices.

Feb. 9, 1858.

Complaint State vs. Jesse Sullivan, Larceny; guilty. Sentenced to be imprisoned three months, county jail.

Complaint State vs. Patrick Crummins, Larceny; guilty. Sentenced to be imprisoned one month, county jail.

Complaint State vs. Michael Doherty, Burglary and Larceny; continued.

In the case for Larceny, the court in giving sentence, said, that it was not so much the amount taken, as the time, place, and circumstances under which the Larceny was committed. It was stealing during the time of a fire, at a time when property was exposed and necessarily so, in being removed from houses when on fire, and the Court further intimated that in all cases of the like nature, they should deem it their duty to enforce the full amount of penalty the law permitted them to do, because it was not only the duty of every man to assist in stopping a fire, but also their duty to protect all property exposed in that way.—And it was an aggravation of the crime of Larceny, to take advantage of such a calamity to steal, where honest men and good citizens were employed voluntarily to protect and preserve, and not to injure, or steal property.

Look after the Course Fodder.

Nothing is more common in the fields and barnyards of our farmers than to see quantities of straw, corn-stalks, and coarse hay kicking about the cattle's feet and in piles lying along the fences, where a little of it is nosed over by the stock, and the rest trodden under foot and wasted.

This is all wrong, and as unnecessary as wrong. Every particle of coarse fodder, even to buckwheat, peas, and bean straw, should be carefully folded out, for in certain portions of the winter, if the stuff be well-saved and clean, the cattle, sheep, and horses will consume it all. If the racks under the sheds are not sufficient to hold it, we build coohle pens of rails, poles, or coarse limbs, in the yards, or adjoining fields, and carry out or haul with a wagon, cart, or sled, as the case may be, the litter, and pitch it into them. To these in good weather—not in rain or snow storms—we drive the stock, and never had any difficulty in their eating all, or the most of it, even when they fed on good hay over night in their stables and sheds.

Sometimes, when the straw is not bright, by sprinkling on a little brine, the stock will eat it clean when otherwise they would hardly touch it. It is of no use to say, that such fodder does the stock no good. We know better. Anything that the cattle eat with relish does them good. Cold bright weather is the time to feed out all coarse fodder, and it is wrong to waste a single handful that any creature you have will consume.—American Agriculturist, January.

Get married! marry, let the risk be what it may; it gives dignity to your profession, inspires confidence, and commands respect.

With a wife, the lawyer is more trusted, the doctor more esteemed, the mechanic throws the hammer with increased power, and shows the plane with a more dexterous hand; the merchant gets a better credit; in short, a man without a wife is no man at all! She turns while sick, she watches for him in her thimble, get a wife, a pretty one if you like them best, a good one when she is to be found, and a rich one if you can get one pretty and good.

HUDSON RIVER.—This river has not been open as late as January since 1830, when it closed on the 11th and remained closed till March 15, sixty-three days. In 1835, it closed January 5, and opened March 5, sixty days. In 1840, it closed January 19, but the period of its opening is not recorded. In 1848, it was closed from January 4 till March 10, sixty-five days. In 1849, from January 9, to February 20, forty-two days, the shortest closing recorded. In 1851 January 12 to April 6, eighty-four days. In 1852, it did not close till Feb. 3, opening March 19, forty-four days. In 1853 it closed Feb. 13, and opened March 27, fifty-two days.—N. Y. Mirror.

PICKPOCKETS AT CHURCH.—A number of pickpockets made their appearance in the Congregational Church, corner of President and Court streets, Brooklyn, on Thursday evening last. Inspector Shauman and officer Perry were notified, and on their arrival placed guards at the door, with instructions to let no one out without permission. Two well-dressed ladies demanded to be let out, stating that they had permission, and the gallantry of the doorkeeper prevented him from saying "no." They went, and the search inside proved of no account. Subsequently two empty pocket-books were found in the vicinity of the Church. The ladies had no doubt secured the money and luggage at the verandah of the doorkeeper.—N. Y. Mirror.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, Monday, Feb. 8.

Mr. Allen presented the joint resolutions of the Rhode Island Legislature against the admission of Kansas under the Lecompton constitution. Mr. Seward presented petitions from Bishop Potter and other clergymen and a large number of New York merchants, praying that schoolmasters may be appointed for the instruction of seamen. Mr. Douglas made several ineffectual efforts to take up his resolutions offered on Thursday last, asking for information relative to the facts attending the formation of the Lecompton constitution, etc.

HOUSE.

The galleries of the House were crowded, more so than on any previous occasion, including many ladies.

The Speaker announced the pending proposition to be on seconding the demand for the previous question on the several motions of the President's special Kansas message.

The demand for the previous question was seconded by 110 against 105.

Mr. Washburn, of Maine, demanded the yeas and nays, which the question so decided instead of by tellers.

Mr. Barksdale—That is a violation of the contract heretofore agreed on.

Mr. Florence—Yes, clearly.

Mr. Washburn did not press his motion. The main question was ordered to be put, by a vote of yeas 113, yeas 107.

The result of this vote was watched by everybody with extreme anxiety.

The next question was announced to be Mr. Stephen's motion to refer the message to the committee on territories.

Disagreed to by 113 against 114. The next question announced was on agreeing to the amendment of Mr. Harris, of Illinois, providing for referring the message to a select committee of five.

Mr. Clark, of New York, asked to be excused from voting.

The House refused to excuse him by a vote of 89 against 106.

Mr. Barksdale moved to lay Mr. Harris's amendment on the table.

Mr. Florence said that the motion was not consistent with the understanding previously agreed on.

Mr. Harris remarked that it would be recollected that the understanding was by universal consent.

Mr. Savage did not think the motion to lay on the table would be inconsistent with that agreement, as it might finally determine the question in the House.

Mr. Harris's amendment was then carried by a vote of 114 against 111.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

January Session.

MONDAY, Feb. 8.

SENATE.

Mr. Eldred, from the Committee on Education, reported back the petition of John E. Driscoll and others for an act to incorporate the Cedar Vale Cemetery, which was read and passed in concurrence.

Mr. Eldred, from the same committee, also reported back the petition of Zion's Church in Newport for an amendment of charter; which was read, the petition granted and accompanying act passed.

An invitation from the Young Men's Christian Union to visit its rooms was accepted.

The Governor transmitted the following communication from himself to the supreme court, asking its opinion which follows in reply:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, Providence, Feb. 1, 1858.

GENTLEMEN: I enclose the petition of James Hazard (drawn up by Henry Howard, Esq.) asking for official action in his restoration to the bar, and the privileges of an attorney.

I am informed by Mr. Hazard, that the Committee on the Judiciary in the House of Representatives of this State are of the opinion that this action is not only implied, but vested in the pardoning power, as is provided for in article II. of the amendments to the constitution of this State. (See Revised Statutes, page 34, and also the last clause of section I, article II. of the constitution of this State, page 22.) I differ from the opinion of the committee, and suppose this subject to be exclusively within the action of the General Assembly. Your official opinion is solicited. Very respectfully yours,

ELISHA DYER.

To the Honor the Justices of the Supreme Court of Rhode Island.

SOUTH KINGSTOWN, Feb. 3, 1858.

SIR, Your communication of the first instant has been received and considered by us. Our opinion is that all disabilities incurred by the commission of a crime except that provided for by article 2, section 1, of the constitution, may be removed by the Governor, and with the advice and consent of the Senate, is fairly within the scope of the pardoning power exercised by the General Assembly.

The cases, however, of persons convicted of bribery or of any crime deemed infamous at the common law, the convict is deprived of the privilege of voting by article 2, section 1, of the constitution, and the same clause of the constitution provides that such convict shall not be permitted to exercise the privilege until he be expressly restored thereto by act of the General Assembly. We are of opinion that this restoration may well stand with, and remain in full force, notwithstanding the second article in amendment vesting the pardoning power in the Governor and Senate.

As the convict, to whose petition your Excellency's communication relates was convicted of a crime deemed infamous at common law, to wit: The crime of larceny, as it is defined by our statute, our conclusion is that your Excellency, by and with the advice of the Senate, may restore him to all his privileges except that of voting, but that restoration to that privilege can only be accorded to him by an express act of that effect of the General Assembly.

Sec. 2. Nor shall the charge for transporting any goods taken by any railroad company, from any point on the line of its road in this State, and delivered at any other place, either by said railroad company, or by any person forming a connecting line with said railroad company, be greater than would have

Mr. Saunders of Scituate submitted a resolution instructing the Committee on the Judiciary to report certain bills in accordance with suggestion of the State Auditor; limiting the number of jurors, giving to suitors only one jury trial, and restricting the number of officers and waiters to be employed in the courts; which was read, and on motion of Mr. Johnson, ordered to lie on the table.

The motion to reconsider then prevailed.

No. 19.

MITCHELL, Worcester Co., Mass. Nov. 13, 1851. Prof. O. J. Wood—Dear Sir:—I take pleasure in bearing voluntary testimony, to the magic effects of your wonderful Hair-Regenerative. As far back as 1839 my hair commenced falling off, until the top of my scalp became bald and smooth as glass, and it continued to fall for a great many years, notwithstanding I have used many celebrated preparations for its restoration. Seeing your article a trial; and to my utter astonishment, became firmly set, and assumed a very glossy and beautiful appearance; and by the time I covered over with your magnificent growth of hair, which is now from one to two inches in length, and growing fast.

Yours truly, HENRY GOODRICH.
